Minimum Intervals between Tests

The interval between starting times for each test will be at the discretion of the Organising Committee and will be set out in the Draw.

Event Result

The rider with the lowest placings score for the competition in each class is the winner of that class.

In the case of a draw, the class is decided by the best dressage score by the competitor combination for the class. If equality still exists, the closest to optimum time (under the time set) in the jumping test determines the result.
